

Heterocyphellium Vainio
(CALICIALES: INCERTAE SEDIS)

After Awasthi

Rev. 5/94

Thallus crustose. Photobiont Trentepohlia. Apothecia sessile; mazaedium single in young apothecia, but divided into (3)57 mazaedia when mature; not differentiated into upper and lower parts. Spores 2(3)septate, ellipsoid, constricted at septa. On bark. Monotypic. Type species: H. leucocampyx.

Thallus grayish white to grayish green, smooth to areolate. Apothecia black; thalline margined; the (3)57 mazaedia interspersed by whit tissue connected with margin; spores dark brown, ellipsoid, 1016 x 68 um, constricted at septa, thickwalled, the central cell/cells larger than end cells. H. leucampyx

Awasthi. 19 . Microlichens of India, etc.

Tibell, L. 1984.need to get info. from this.